The Grant Family.
In the churchyard in Windsor, Connecticut, are a number of ancient tombstones erected in the memory of the Grant family. A genealogical investigation has traced General Grant's family back to its first appearance in this country. Matthew Grant and Susanna Rockwell sailed from Plymouth, England, March 30, 1650, in the Mary and John, and arrived at Nantucket May 20. Mr. Grant settled at Dorset, Connecticut, and died here in 1695. He was married, afterwards named Windsor, where for many years he was principal surveyor of land, town clerk, and justice. Here he married, in 1706, Susanna Rockwell, then a widow, with four children. He died in 1761, aged eighty, with Ruth Rockwell, his second daughter of Susanna Grant, married Christopher Huntington; their great granddaughter, Martha Huntington; their granddaughter, Noah Grant; their second granddaughter, a great-grandson of Matthew.
From this marriage came the second, Noah Grant, a captain in the old French war, the third son of this Captain Noah Grant, who also bore the name of Noah, resided in Coventry, Connecticut, and had a son named for him, Jesse Root, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Connecticut from 1796 to 1857, and his Jesse Root Grant is the father of Ulysses S. Grant.—New Haven Journal.

A lady of Ridgeville, Lorain county, Ohio, having the rheumatism in her hip, recently employed an Elyria doctor, who administered morphine by blowing it into the veins. It affected the whole system, went to the heart, and caused her death in an hour.
